I'll bet you are beginning to feel the stress as our jobs ramp up with more rehearsals and more activities to plan for the fall season. I know I am feeling it. As I write this, I am suddenly in need of two handbell ringers. It is normal and natural to get discouraged when unexpected things happen at a time that is already very busy. My advice to you, and especially to myself, is to ask for help! So many times I feel that I must just do everything on my own. "If you want something done right, do it yourself!" As musicians, we must practice on our own, and that makes us more likely to go it alone in many other parts of our jobs.

I challenge you to ask for help with some of those jobs that have been neglected for too long. I know I have storage areas that are a mess, and I'm sure you probably do too. Ask one or two people to help you and it will feel so good when it is done. Find a volunteer in the choir to help audition new music packets. They will feel so proud when one of their choices ends up in the folders.

Don't miss our first meeting where we will eat together and then take turns sharing music and ideas that have been successful in our church positions. It will be Monday, September 18th at Calvary Episcopal Church in Indian Rocks Beach. This is another way we can help each other be more successful. Let's work together, and not try to do it all on our own.
